DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 3-29-02 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 10 and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for parallel strips of adhesive film, does not reasonably provide enablement for strips positioned at right angles with respect to each other. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to practice the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. Independent claims 1 and 42 claim a plurality of strips of adhesive film that extend substantially the entire distance between a first pair of opposed die edges, and extend substantially less than the distance between a second pair of opposed die edges. In order for one strip to be positioned at a right angle to another strip, the strips would extend the entire die distance between both opposed die edges, and would also extend substantially less than the distance between both opposed die edges, which is in contradiction to claim 1 and claim 42 parameters.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 5-15, 17-18, and 38-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mitchell (6,169,328) in view of Umehara (5,960,260). Mitchell discloses a semiconductor device package, comprising: a semiconductor die (Fig.1 el.120) having a bond pad (el.130) on a first surface; and a flexible organic interposer having a die attach surface and an external surface opposite the die attach surface (el.100; col.4 lines 58-67), with an electrical interconnect (el.150) coupled to the bond pad of the die and to an external terminal (el.140) or a solder ball (Fig.1 no #) on the interposer external surface (Fig.1). Mitchell also discloses a plurality of strips (Fig.4B el.110) of single layer adhesive, compliant, elastomeric film (col.5 lines 1-6; col.6 lines 26-33) disposed in between the die and interposer to adhere the die to the interposer die attach surface. Mitchell also discloses an encapsulating material, substantially filling the regions remaining in between the die and the interposer (Fig.2 el.170). Mitchell discloses using a plurality of strips of adhesive film, comprising: a first and second adhesive layer adhered to a carrier layer, and laminating said strips to either the interposer or to the chip (col.9 lines 54-58).

However, Mitchell does not disclose a plurality of strips of compliant adhesive film extending the entire distance between a first pair of opposed lateral edges of the die. Umehara discloses a plurality of compliant, organic, adhesive strips that are parallel to each other and extend substantially the entire distance between the first pair of opposed lateral edges and extend substantially less than the entire distance between a second pair of opposed lateral edges of the die, disposed in between the die and an interposer (Figs.6C,23; col.15 lines 15-34; col.22 line 56 – col.23 line 3). Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person skilled in the art at the time of the invention to use the extended adhesive strips of Umehara with the semiconductor package of Mitchell in order to provide additional adhesion of the die to the interposer, but still allow independent expansion and contraction of the strips.
